

Anth 304: Biological Anthropology SOCIOLOGY & ANTHROPOLOGY

This course explores the ways in which bioarchaeology, primatology, and the study of ancient fossils help anthropologists understand human origins and the nature of biological variation in modern populations.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

• Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

• Lecture: Lecture for Anth 304

Course Fee(s) Anthroplolgy

• $10.00

Subject Areas

• Anthropology

Related Areas

• Physical and Biological Anthropology

