HP 635: Theories in Health Promotion

Health, Exercise Sci & Recreation Mgmt

Selected health behavior theories and their application to the practice of health promotion will be covered. Using a social ecological framework, we examine theories, research, and interventions that aim to promote the health of individuals, communities, and populations.

3 Credits

Instruction Type(s)

- Seminar: Seminar for HP 635

Subject Areas

- Health and Physical Education, General
- Health and Physical Education/Fitness, Other

Related Areas

- Health and Physical Education, General
- Health and Physical Education/Fitness, Other
- Kinesiology and Exercise Science
- Socio-Psychological Sports Studies