Manf 460: Introduction to Project Management
SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING
This course introduces the field of project management and familiarizes students with management concepts/processes/terminology they will encounter in their careers in manufacturing. Topics covered will include the 10 knowledge areas commonly identified in PM, problem analysis and correction, understanding cost/schedule relationship, and ethics.
3 Credits

Prerequisites
- Junior Standing Required

Instruction Type(s)
- Lecture: Lecture for Manf 460

Subject Areas
- Project Management

Related Areas
- Business Administration and Management, General
- Business/Managerial Operations, Other
- Logistics, Materials, and Supply Chain Management
- Operations Management and Supervision