

Liba 151: Integrated Science II

College of Liberal Arts

This is an interdisciplinary survey course covering general scientific principles and concepts for non-science majors. Topics covered focus on the earth, chemical and biological sciences, with emphasis on the practical importance of concepts and with a description of important historical aspects. There is a required laboratory component.

4 Credits

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture/Lab: Lecture/Lab for Liba 151

Subject Areas

- Natural Sciences

