

Phil 310: Socrates and the Sophists

Philosophy & Religion

This course examines the intellectual developments and pedagogical practices in fifth-century Greece, especially in Athens, associated with the Sophists and Socrates through analysis of a range of ancient texts about these figures and their influences on ancient (and modern) culture and politics.

3 Credits

Cross-listed Courses

- Clc 310: Socrates and the Sophists

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Phil 310

Subject Areas

- Philosophy

Related Areas

- Applied and Professional Ethics
- Ethics
- Logic
- Philosophy, Other

