Phil 633: Philosophy of Language

Philosophy & Religion

This course examines major philosophical problems in language, including meaning, reference, relations of language to thought and being. May be repeated once for credit with a change in topic.

3 Credits

Prerequisites
• Consent of instructor required for all students not enrolled in the philosophy graduate program.

Cross-listed Courses
• Ling 633: Philosophy of Language

Instruction Type(s)
• Seminar: Seminar for Phil 633

Subject Areas
• Philosophy

Related Areas
• Applied and Professional Ethics
• Ethics
• Logic