Psy 575: Psychosocial Aspects of Aging

PSYCHOLOGY

Introduction to gerontology with a foundation in biological, psychosocial, and behavioral aspects of aging; emphasis on current research and experience working with older adults.

3 Credits

Cross-listed Courses
- SW 575: Psychosocial Aspects of Aging

Instruction Type(s)
- Lecture: Lecture for Psy 575

Subject Areas
- Geropsychology

Related Areas
- Applied Behavior Analysis
- Applied Psychology
- Clinical Psychology
- Educational Psychology
- Environmental Psychology
- Family Psychology
- Forensic Psychology
- Health/Medical Psychology
- Industrial and Organizational Psychology