

Manf 460: Introduction to Project Management SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

This course introduces the field of project management and familiarizes students with management concepts/processes/terminology they will encounter in their careers in manufacturing. Topics covered will include the 10 knowledge areas commonly identified in PM, problem analysis and correction, understanding cost/schedule relationship, and ethics.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

• Junior Standing Required

Instruction Type(s)

• Lecture: Lecture for Manf 460

Subject Areas

• Project Management

Related Areas

- Business Administration and Management, General
- Business/Managerial Operations, Other
- Logistics, Materials, and Supply Chain Management

