

Psy 350: Ecopsychology and International Youth PSYCHOLOGY

This is a faculty-led study abroad course in which students travel to another country to examine youth's interaction with the environment in a time of climate change and humanitarian concerns. Through guided travel and hands-on learning, students gain deeper understanding of conservation psychology and youth development from environmental and cultural perspectives. Locations vary. In-country travel, tours, and homestays may be included.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Instructor Approval Required

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Psy 350

Subject Areas

- Environmental Psychology

Related Areas

- Clinical Psychology

