

Anth 304: Biological Anthropology

SOCIOLOGY & ANTHROPOLOGY

This course draws on data from studies of primate behavior, human paleontology, and population genetics in order to explore the course of human evolution and the nature of biological variation in modern humans.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Anth 304

Subject Areas

- Anthropology

Related Areas

- Physical and Biological Anthropology

