

Anth 413: Public Archaeology: Theory and Method

SOCIOLOGY & ANTHROPOLOGY

This course provides theoretical and practical experience in public archaeology in the United States. Topics covered include the history and implementation of legislation affecting cultural resources, and a variety of field and lab methods used by current practitioners.

4 Credits

Prerequisites

- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture/Lab: Lecture/Lab for Anth 413

Subject Areas

- Anthropology

Related Areas

- Physical and Biological Anthropology

