

Econ 624: Economics of Human Resources

Labor force concepts and their measurements; labor force participation, problem groups, and employment trends (regional and national); analysis of the human capital investment decision; growth of human capital and its effect on the economy.

Instruction Type(s)

• Lecture: Lecture for Econ 624

Subject Areas

- Applied Economics
- Labor and Industrial Relations

