

Soc 309: Rural Sociology

SOCIOLOGY & ANTHROPOLOGY

This course covers basic concepts for understanding and analyzing rural society. Topics include changes in major rural institutions, impacts of technological change on rural people and communities, demographic patterns and trends, migration, rural minorities and subcultures, the rural-urban relationship, emerging controversies and conflicts in rural areas, and cross-cultural comparisons of rural life.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Soc 101: Introductory Sociology I

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Soc 309
- Lecture: Web-based Lecture for Soc 309

Subject Areas

- Sociology

