

Soc 414: Race, Place, and Space

This course explores the significance of race, place, and space to modern identity formation. Through a multiple-disciplinary exploration, we will analyze the influence of social, political, cultural, and historical factors on the development of real and perceived "racialized places and spaces," identities, and experiences in America, with special emphasis on gender and the American South.

3 Credits Prerequisites

• Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Cross-listed Courses

- Aas 414: Race, Place, and Space
- G St 414: Race, Place, and Space
- S St 314: Race, Place, and Space

Instruction Type(s)

• Lecture: Lecture for Soc 414

Subject Areas

• Sociology

The University of Mississippi is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award certificates and baccalaureate, master's, specialist and doctoral degrees. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097, call 404-679-4500, or visit online at www.sacscoc.org for questions about the accreditation.

