Minor - African American Studies Course Requirements

The minor in African American studies consists of 18 semester hours, offered in conjunction with other departments. Students planning to pursue a career in teaching, social work, law, public service, race relations, or the helping professions will find the minor to be an asset. The program's two-course introductory sequence (African American Studies 201, 202) is required. Six additional hours must be chosen from African and African American history courses. Also 6 hours must be chosen from African and African American political, social institutions, and culture courses.
