

Anth 304: Biological Anthropology

SOCIOLOGY & ANTHROPOLOGY

This course explores the ways in which bioarchaeology, primatology, and the study of ancient fossils help anthropologists understand human origins and the nature of biological variation in modern populations.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Anth 304

Course Fee(s)

Anthropolgy

- $10.00

Subject Areas

- Anthropology

Related Areas

- Physical and Biological Anthropology

