

Anth 413: Public Archaeology: Theory and Method SOCIOLOGY & ANTHROPOLOGY

This course provides theoretical and practical experience in public archaeology in the United States. Topics covered include the history and implementation of legislation affecting cultural resources, and a variety of field and lab methods used by current practitioners.

Prerequisites

• Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

• Lecture/Lab: Lecture/Lab for Anth 413

Subject Areas

• Anthropology

Related Areas

• Physical and Biological Anthropology

