

IMC 353: Topics in IMC III

School of Journalism and New Media

Exploration of special topics that enhance and complement integrated marketing communications studies, including trends, multicultural issues, technology, emerging media, data analysis, crisis communication, case studies, leadership topics, strategic planning, diversity, etc. May also include developing and/or implementing IMC programs for businesses and other organizations.

May be repeated for credit.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture/Lab: Lecture/Lab for IMC 353
- Lecture/Lab: Web-based Lecture/Lab for IMC 353
- Lecture/Lab: In-Country Program for IMC 353
- Lecture/Lab: Study Abroad for IMC 353

Subject Areas

- Public Relations, Advertising, and Applied Communication

Related Areas

- Advertising
- International and Intercultural Communication
- Public Relations, Advertising, and Applied Communication, Other
- Public Relations/Image Management
- Technical and Scientific Communication

