

Soc 311: Social Problems

Sociology & Anthropology

The concept of social problems as a moral construct. Theoretical approaches to identifying social problems. Analysis of some currently defined major problems of U.S. society (e.g., environmental degradation, war and militarism, violence and crime) arguments for remediation, approaches to policy.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Soc 101: Introductory Sociology I
- Successful completion of DS 097 (or DS 094), if required
- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Soc 311
- Lecture: Compressed Video for Soc 311
- Lecture: Hybrid Lecture for Soc 311

Subject Areas

- Sociology

