

Soc 501: Statistics Sociology & Anthropology

This course is an introduction to quantitative data management and analysis with hand computations and computer software. Attention is given to descriptive and inferential statistics, combined with parametric and nonparametric hypothesis testing.

Instruction Type(s)

• Lecture: Lecture for Soc 501

Subject Areas

Sociology

about the accreditation.