

Psy 575: Psychosocial Aspects of Aging Psychology

Introduction to gerontology with a foundation in biological, psychosocial, and behavioral aspects of aging; emphasis on current research and experience working with older adults.

3 Credits

Cross-listed Courses

• SW 575: Psychosocial Aspects of Aging

Instruction Type(s)

• Lecture: Lecture for Psy 575

Subject Areas

Geropsychology

Related Areas

- Applied Behavior Analysis
- Applied Psychology
- Clinical Psychology
- Educational Psychology
- Environmental Psychology
- Family Psychology
- Forensic Psychology
- Health/Medical Psychology
- Industrial and Organizational Psychology

