

Liba 150: Integrated Science I College of Liberal Arts

This is an interdisciplinary survey course covering general scientific principles and concepts for non-science majors. Topics covered focus on physical sciences, with emphasis on the practical importance of concepts and with a description of important historical aspects. There is a required laboratory component.

4 Credits

Instruction Type(s)

• Lecture/Lab: Lecture/Lab for Liba 150

Subject Areas

• Natural Sciences

