

Fin 442: Insurance Company Operations

Finance

Insurance companies are among the most important financial institutions in the economy - both in terms of risk shifting and investment. This course examines the operations of insurance companies, including marketing, underwriting, ratemaking, reinsurance, and investing. The course also examines insurance company accounting and financial performance.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Fin 442 Requires: One Way-Co-Requisite Fin 341
- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Fin 442

Subject Areas

- Finance, General
- Insurance

