

Anth 326: Archaeology of Maya Civilization

Sociology & Anthropology

Students will explore the world of the ancient Maya in Mexico, Guatemala, and Belize through archaeology. The course covers architecture, politics and economy, art, hieroglyphs, and aspects of peoples' everyday lives from fashion, to food, festivals, and funerals.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Anth 326

Subject Areas

- Anthropology
- Archeology

