

Law 669: Crypto Rules

School of Law

This course provides a survey of diverse areas of the law as they intersect with digital assets. The 1-credit version of the class focuses on the most contentious issues, which are primarily questions about where digital assets fit in the complex financial services regulatory structure. In addition to learning about crypto rules, students will learn a lot about financial service regulations. The 2- and 3-credit versions address a broader range of topics, including intellectual property, freedom of speech, extortion, drug dealing, environmental protection, banking and money, privacy, terrorism, social inclusion, and, of course, taxes.
