

Pol 736: International Security Law and Policy This course explores the complexities of the international law of conflict management and the legal structure for resolving international disputes.

This course explores the complexities of the international law of conflict management and the legal structure for resolving international disputes. 3 Credits

Subject Areas

- Political Science and Government, General
- International Relations and Affairs

