

Soc 409: Truth, Lies, and Power

Sociology & Anthropology

What determines what is right, true, good, and authentic in society? This course examines sociological theories and research on how political, economic, and cultural power is intertwined and how intersecting inequalities such as those based on race, class, and gender shape knowledge.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Soc 101: Introductory Sociology
- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Soc 409

Subject Areas

- Sociology

