Manf 460: Introduction to Project Management
School of Engineering

This course introduces the field of project management and familiarizes students with management concepts/processes/terminology they will encounter in their careers in manufacturing. Topics covered will include the 10 knowledge areas commonly identified in PM, problem analysis and correction, understanding cost/schedule relationship, and ethics.

3 Credits

Prerequisites
• Junior Standing Required

Instruction Type(s)
• Lecture: Lecture for Manf 460

Subject Areas
• Project Management

Related Areas
• Business Administration and Management, General
• Business/Managerial Operations, Other
• Logistics, Materials, and Supply Chain Management
• Operations Management and Supervision