Econ 453: An Economic History of the South

Economics

This course is a survey of the major economic developments in the South since the Civil War, with special emphasis on Southern economic growth and its effects on the United States generally.

3 Credits

Prerequisites
- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)
- Lecture: Lecture for Econ 453

Subject Areas
- Economics, General
- American History United States