Liba 151: Integrated Science II
College of Liberal Arts
This is an interdisciplinary survey course covering general scientific principles and concepts for non-science majors. Topics covered focus on the earth, chemical and biological sciences, with emphasis on the practical importance of concepts and with a description of important historical aspects. There is a required laboratory component.

4 Credits

Instruction Type(s)
- Lecture/Lab: Lecture/Lab for Liba 151

Subject Areas
- Natural Sciences