Psy 340: Multicultural Psychology

Students examine cultural factors in human behavior, with a focus on American ethnic and cultural minorities; includes the changing ethnic profile in the United States; cultural variation in emotional, cognitive, and behavioral expressions; role of culture in service provision and moderator variables, e.g., racial identity and acculturation.

3 Credits

Prerequisites
- Psy 201: Introduction to Psychology (Minimum grade: C)

Instruction Type(s)
- Lecture: Lecture for Psy 340

Subject Areas
- Psychology, General