Anth 360: Political Ecology
Sociology & Anthropology
This course examines the cultural politics of nature through a critical engagement with the most pressing environmental issues of the 21st century, such as environmental security and territorial conflict, energy production and toxicity, land management and protected-area conservation, climate change and the green economy.
3 Credits

Prerequisites
- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Cross-listed Courses
- Geog 360: Political Ecology

Instruction Type(s)
- Lecture: Lecture for Anth 360

Subject Areas
- Anthropology

Related Areas
- Physical and Biological Anthropology