

Soc 336: Sociology of Religion

Sociology & Anthropology

Social scientific study of religion as a social institution. Examines behavior, belonging and belief, as well as the relationships and processes that sustain religious systems of meaning. Impact of religion on other social categories such as gender, sexuality, and ethnicity.

3 Credits

Prerequisites

- Soc 101: Introductory Sociology
- Pre-Requisite: 24 Earned Hours

Instruction Type(s)

- Lecture: Lecture for Soc 336
- Lecture: Web-based lecture for Soc 336

Subject Areas

- Sociology

