

Soc 362: Sustainable Development

Sociology & Anthropology

This course provides a general introduction to the principles of sustainable development. It explores topics such as the history of sustainable development, the precautionary principle, the risk society and well-being, governance and environmental justice, conservation and protected areas, growth-oriented economic paradigms, food systems, renewable energy, and measuring progress.

3 Credits

Cross-listed Courses

- Anth 362: Sustainable Development
- Geog 362: Sustainable Development

Subject Areas

- Anthropology

Related Areas

- Physical and Biological Anthropology

